rtp" versions of the free DaVinci Resolve Free .rtp" ". The big news is that DaVinci Resolve 14.1.1 is now available on both Windows and macOS. So whether you have a laptop or desktop machine, you can download the latest version and start editing right away. Some of the updates we've added include: • A better PDF export for high-res projects. • A new output option for video footage that's compatible with IMAX film stock. • The ability to use the S-Log and Linear Style Profiles for grading. • Improved image scrubbing support. The update is available for both Windows and macOS users from the DaVinci Resolve 14.1.1 page and it's important to note that there are other important updates as well. Some of the improvements in this version include the new image scrubbing support, the Log and Linear Style Profiles, improved support for the Arcona footage format, as well as many other improvements and bug fixes.Q: Why do I receive an Invalid payload error when running Node.js? I'm running my node.js app using a docker container. If I load a page, run a form, and submit the data to the server, I receive an Invalid payload error when I try to retrieve the results. If I run the same thing locally on my windows PC, I can just reload the page and I get the results. This also happens if I try to debug the app using Visual Studio code. I've tried everything I can think of to make this work, including switching out mysql for sqlite, switching out the host to 127.0.0.1 and localhost, switching out the connection string from 127.0.0.1:3306 to localhost:3306, and running the server on different ports. All of this has not worked. This is my latest attempt and the error that comes back is this: Exception: Invalid payload: {"message":"Invalid request: SQLSTATE[HY000]: General error: 1004 Message: Error 1004 (HY000): Can't connect to MySQL server on '127.0.0.1' (10027) ", "exception": "ErrorException", "stack":"ErrorException: Exception: Invalid 82157476af
